PREFACE

This family record is dedicated to you with the hope that it will find a place in your home with other valuable possessions. Many have expressed a desire that a family record should be written. It is only to be regretted that not a more complete historical account could be given. Nevertheless, considering the fact that family records of early days are somewhat incomplete, it is gratifying to know that there are several individuals now living who can recall some of the events relative to the early days of our ancestors. It is therefore proper that a record, with the information which is available, should be written for the benefit of those living and for future generations.

It is no small task to compile a record with a great measure of accuracy, including names and dates from 1776 to 1941. In a few instances the dates of birth and death are missing because no one was able to supply them. Special acknowledgment is due to Edwin P. Burcky of Tiskilwa, Illinois, for his assistance in gathering data for this family history. However, it is also with a deep sense of gratitude to all others who so kindly assisted in giving the information desired for this work, such as dates of births and deaths, the spelling of names, the addresses of families and historical records. Without their assistance it would have been impossible to attain any standard of success. It is to be appreciated that this data has been gathered from many and various sources and over a considerable period of time. For any errors or omissions which it is quite possible that may have occurred, I offer humble apology.

It has been interesting to note how the family lines have developed during this period of years. In order that this work may be continued, it is the express desire of the writer that some interested individual in each branch of the family will assume the responsibility for perpetuating the record of his or her particular family so that some day a more complete record can be published. Let us all strive to so live that we can, at the end of our earthly pilgrimage, meet in a Grand Reunion in the Home of the Blessed.

Respectfully,

Elias Edward Zimmerman.

THE NAME AND FAMILY OF ZIMMERMAN(N)

The name of ZIMMERMAN or ZIMMERMANN is of German origin and was derived from the word zimbermann, meaning "carpenter." It was first assumed as a surname because of the trade of its first bearers. It is found in ancient German and early American records in the various spellings of Zimmermanns, Zimmermans, Zimbermann, Zimberman, Cimberman, Timmermann, Timmerman, Zimbermanns, Simmermann, Simmerman, Simmermon, Zimerman, Zimermann, Zimmermann, Zimmerman, and others, of which the last two forms mentioned are those most generally in use in America today.

Families bearing this name, chiefly in the forms of Zimmermann and Zimmerman, were living at early dates at Fribourg, in Switzerland; in Livonia and Estonia, Russia; in Silesia, Prussia; at Brandenburg, Prussia; in Hesse, Germany; at Vienna, in Austria; at Baden, in Germany; at Bale, in Switzerland; at Alsace, in Germany; and also in Holland and Sweden. These families were, in some part, of the European landed classes.

As early as 1550 one Zimmermann was listed as a nobleman "du St. Empire." One branch of this family went into Sweden about 1672, while another branch was to be found in Livonia, Russia, in 1730 and is recorded as being of the nobility. In 1598 a Zimmermann family was living in Silesia, and in 1629 a Zimmermann, listed as a nobleman "du St. Empire," was living in Bavaria. The Bradenburg line, "Chevaliers en Boheme," was distinguished by a grant of arms in the year 1710; and in 1733 a family of the name was listed among the nobility of Austria.

The first of the name to emigrate to America was Christopher Zimmerman, an Evangelical Lutheran, whose intended destination was Pennsylvania. His ship was, however, driven southward by a storm, and Christopher, therefore, arrived in Virginia in 1717 and made his home in that colony. He brought with him his wife, Elizabeth, and their children, Andrew and John, and settled in Spottsylvania county. He had further issue in this country of Barbara, Frederick, Christopher, Elizabeth, and Katharine.

Of Andrew Zimmerman, son of the emigrant Christopher, very little is known, although he is said to have been one of the trustees of Hebron Church, Va. It is considered probable that he left no issue, although he had a wife, named Barbara.

John, son of the immigrant Christopher, was the father by his wife Ursula or Ursuly Blankenbaker, of John, Margaret, Christopher, Mary, Rosanna, Dorothy, and Elizabeth.

John, elder son of the first John Zimmerman, of Virginia was the father by his wife, Susanna, of Joshua, Anna, Magdalena, Rebecca, Simeon, John, George, Nancy and Hannah. The records of his line are not, however, complete.

Christopher, the younger son of the first John Zimmerman, of Virginia, married Maria Tanner about 1745 and settled in Culpeper County, Va., where he was the father by her of Susannah, Joshua, Elizabeth, Frederick, Maria, Nancy, Margaret, Leah, and Milly.

Of the last-mentioned brothers, Joshua removed to Boone County, Ky., and was first married in 1798 to Susan Tanner and later to the Widow Lucy Snider, but left no issue; and Frederick resided first in Madison County, Va., and later in Boone County, Ky., and left issue by his wife, Rosanna Crigler, of Aaron, Joshua, Jacob, Fannie, Catherine, Maria, Nancy, Susan, and Julia.

Frederick, son of the immigrant Christopher, was the father by his wife, Sarah, of, among others, a son named Reuben, who married the Widow Mary (nee Catlett) Yates about 1790 and was the father by her of William Gibson, George Washington, Sarah Taliaferro, James Madison, Mary, and Elizabeth.

Of the last-mentioned brothers, William Gibson married Matilda Somersall and was the father by her of Reuben, John William, Mary, Simon Bolivar, Lawrence Taliaferro, Alice Catlett, and Zerelda; George Washington married Margaret Brisco Smith, of Maryland, but the names of his children are not in evidence; and James Madison married Zulina Bainbridge and removed to Lincoln County, Mo., where he left issue, although the names of his progeny have not been found.

Christopher, son of the emigrant Christopher, is said to have died in 1781 without issue or, at least, with no heirs living at that time.

About the middle of the eighteenth century Herman Zimmerman or Zimmermann, who is believed to have been the son of one Henry Zimmerman(n), of Dellenburg, Holland, and a nephew of John Zimmerman(n), a wealthy bachelor, of the same place, came to America and settled in Montgomery County, Pa. He married Susanna Borne-man and was the father by her of Herman, Henry, Christian, Daniel, Jacob, Abraham, Catherine, Barbara, and Susanna.

Herman, eldest son of the emigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), married Elizabeth Young in 1791 and had issue by her of John, Susanna, Jacob, and David. In 1801 he appears to have left his wife and finally removed to Canada.

Henry, second son of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), married Elizabeth Hiestand and was the father by her of Abraham, Elizabeth, and Barbara. He was a blacksmith and is said to have been prominent in his trade.

Daniel, son of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), resided in Huntingdon County, Pa., and was the father of Frederick, Daniel, Henry, and possibly Abraham.

Jacob, son of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), was the father of five children, John, Jacob, David, Mary, and Sarah.

The other sons of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), Christian and Abraham, may also have left issue, but no definite records have yet been found concerning their immediate families or descendants.

One John Zimmerman or Zimmermann, whose ancestry is not known, resided in the city of New York in the latter eighteenth century, before the year 1779, and had issue there by his wife, formerly a Miss Bradley, of, among other children, a son named John, who married Huldah Dimon and settled at Fairfield, Conn., where he

In 1781 one Jacob Zimmerman or Zimmermann is said to have deserted the British Service and the Hessian Forces and to have taken the oath of allegiance to the American Colonies in Pennsylvania. He appears to have made his home in Virginia at a later date, but no record had yet been found of his descendants.

Other bearers of the name whose connection, if any, with the above-mentioned lines cannot be determined, were Christopher or Stophel, Areheart, and Charles Simmerman or Zimmerman, who were living in Wythe County, Va., before the year 1790.

The descendants of these and of later immigrants of the name to America have spread to practically every State of the Union and have aided substantially in the advancement of the nation. Mental and artistic ability, business acumen, thrift, and piety are traits of character common to many of the name. Zimmerman(n)s have attained particular distinction in the fields of poetry, history, painting, banking, commerce and jurisprudence.

Among those of the name who fought in the War of the Revolution were Ensign Cornelius, Lieutenant John, and Lieutenant Henry, of New York; John Christopher, Frederick, Reuben and William, of Virginia; and numerous others from the various other New England and southern colonies.

Christopher, Andrew, Frederick, William, Joshua, George, Reuben, Henry, Herman, Jacob, Abraham, Daniel, David, and John are some of the Christian names most favored by the Zimmermans for their male progeny.

Dates Back to 1776

There are many families today bearing the name of Zimmerman. The records of our particular family began with Micheal Zimmerman who was born in 1776, in Alsace-Lorraine, Germany. We do not know the name of his father and mother, but it is definitely known that he had one brother, Andrew, and one sister, Fanny.

His first marriage took place in Germany. We do not know the name of his wife. She died in Germany. He was married the second time to Magdalena Erb, who was born in 1807, and therefore much younger than he. Some time after the second marriage they came to America, in about 1840, settling in Fulton County, Ohio. The ocean voyage required 53 days and it is related that at one time provisions were nearly exhausted before landing. In 1843, he with some of the family moved from Ohio to Tazewell County, Illinois, locating near Pekin, Illinois. They made the journey in a covered wagon. He died in 1860 at the age of 84 years and is buried in what is known as the Railroad Cemetery about three miles east of Pekin. His wife, after his death, resided part of the time with one of her daughters, Mrs. Maria Schrock near Flanagan, Illinois. She died in February 1892, at the age of 85 years, and is buried nearly in the center of Waldo Cemetery about 6 miles southeast of Flanagan.

Travel in those days was mostly on horseback, by wagon, or walking. What a contrast to present day travel by automobile, streamlined train, or airplane! Many perils were encountered and many hardships endured. Wild game such as deer, wild turkeys, prairie chickens, and quails was plentiful. One way to catch wild turkeys was to make a trap from rails, laying them about four feet high. Beginning at the trap a trench was dug to the distance of about 100 feet, being narrow at the beginning and gradually making it wider until the end. In the trench grain and chaff were strewn so that the turkeys would be attracted. They would slowly make their way toward the trap and finally at last find themselves enclosed. It was also a common sight to have deer come to the house door. It is said that at one time a fawn, thought to have lost its mother, came to their home. They caught it, fed it milk and put a little bell on its neck. For some time it would go to the timber near by, and return to the house again. This occurred while they lived near Tremont, Illinois.

Farming was done in a very primitive way when compared to our modern methods and improved machinery. Houses were small and often constructed from logs hewn from native trees. There were no conveniences such as are found in many homes today. It took much courage and determination for these sturdy pioneers to help develop our country in such a manner that we of the present day can enjoy its many and varied blessings.

Micheal Zimmerman was a minister in Germany and he continued in that profession for some time after he came to America. Also three of his sons were ministers. It was related by E. M. Schrock, one of his grandsons, of Pontiac, Illinois, that at one time he and his wife each rode a horse to the place where they had services. He took two children on the horse with him and she took one. One day while being assembled in a service, their humble dwelling was burned to the ground, and consequently they lost all their possessions which were contained therein. It is not positively known but generally believed that the church members gave them some provisions. It is said that they lost their home several times by fire.

A granddaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Albrecht, of Princeton, Illinois, who is now past eighty-two years of age also has some vivid recollections of the times when she was a young girl. She related that her grandparents lived for awhile with Mr. and Mrs. John Reeser near Washington, Illinois. Mrs. Reeser was his daughter Katherine, by his first marriage. Her grandmother while still in Germany would take the sheep in the morning to the valleys so they would have grass to eat and at night bring them safely home again. Her mother once worked for a family near Tremont for $1.25 a week and with her savings bought a dresser about 85 years ago costing $18.00 which is still in the possession of the Albrecht family. Part of the time they lived with Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schrock of Flanagan, Illinois. Mrs. Schrock was a daughter by the second marriage.

Worship on Sunday was often held in houses as there were not many church buildings. Usually the whole family would attend. Since houses generally were small they looked forward to having a good day so the beds and a few other articles of furniture could be put outside to make room for benches to be erected. Sometimes if the weather was fair services were held outdoors under shade trees. They were not the most convenient seats to be used for sometimes two hours of service while two or three ministers would preach to them. But people had a desire to hear the Word of God. People would travel for many miles usually in a lumber wagon and sometimes in a spring wagon as they had no buggies. Often they put chairs on the wagon in order to be as comfortable as possible. Today some people can hardly remain an hour at church in a good pew, and afterwards ride home in a fine automobile.

Mrs. Albrecht further states that discipline was held in high esteem, and members were cautioned to abstain from worldly pleasures and amusements. After the services were ended dinner was served consisting of bread, butter, molasses, and sometimes applebutter, coffeecake, raised doughnuts and coffee cooked in a wash boiler. Sometimes after the meal was finished, the dishes washed, the young folks would gather together and sing spiritual songs, while the older folks would discuss various religious topics. After enjoying themselves thus for several hours they departed for their respective homes.

THE FAMILY OF MICHEAL ZIMMERMAN, SR.

By the first marriage of Micheal Zimmerman there were born seven sons, Micheal, John, Andrew, Daniel, Joseph, Christian, and Jacob, and also two daughters, Katherine and Magdalena. The second marriage was to Magdalena Erb. To this union there were born two daughters, Maria and Jacobina, and also one son, Peter. Two sons, Micheal, Jr., and John, and also their sister, Magdalena, did not emigrate to America. It is therefore quite probable that some of our relatives might be in Germany and France. Peter was the only child born in this country.

Andrew was born in 1808 in Germany. He married a lady by the name of Gingerich and they had one daughter Lena and two sons, Andrew, Jr., and Joe. He also was a minister but of the Mennonite church sometimes called Old Amish church at Ohio, Illinois. He died at Chenoa, Illinois, on February 23, 1889.

Daniel was born in about 1810 in Germany. He was married to Mary Salina Miller. To them were born three children, Andrew, Chris, and David. David had a drug store in Roanoke, Illinois, for awhile. Andrew and Chris were farmers. He was a preacher of the Apostolic or New Amish church in the vicinity of Eureka. He has a long line of descendants. He died in 1890 and his wife died in about 1881.

Joseph was born in about 1814 in Germany. His wife, Anna Schnert, was born in 1838 and died in 1917. They had two children, Elizabeth and John. Elizabeth who was married to Robert Brett, is at present living at 321 North Menard St., in Chicago, Illinois. He was a minister of the Methodist Church. While preaching to a large audience in St. Louis, he suffered a sunstroke, and died from the effects of it. His wife was married the second time to Fred Schaefer. They were the parents of five sons, Fred, William, George, Henry, Charles, and two daughters, Louisa and Mrs. Lena Hinnens. Louisa died in 1933, and Henry in 1939. The others all reside in Pekin, Illinois.

Christian, born in about 1816 in Germany, was married to Elizabeth Stalter. They had no children, but it is believed that at one time they adopted a girl. He was a miller for some time in Pekin, Illinois. He died there and is buried at or near Pekin.

Jacob was born April 18, 1818, in Alsace-Lorraine, Germany, and came to this country while still a young man. After a voyage in a sailing vessel which required 102 days he landed at New Orleans, Louisiana. It was stated that provisions were nearly exhausted before landing. After his arrival he soon secured a job as a dishwasher in a hotel. He also could have secured the job of driving six negroes on a plow but declined to do so, as it seemed too cruel to him.

He later came to Illinois and stopped in the vicinity of Peoria. On October 15, 1844, he was united in marriage to Mary Rinkenberger of Farmdale, which is located a few miles east of Peoria. She had worked in what is now known as Peoria when there was only one store and a blacksmith shop. The place was then called Fort Clark.

They were the parents of eight children, Solomon, Anna, Sarah, Abraham, Lydia, Samuel, Joel, and Mary, all of whom are deceased except Mary (Mrs. Fred Fechter of Flanagan). For about twenty years they lived on a farm in the vicinity of Washington and Peoria. In about 1865 they moved with their family to a farm about one mile north of where Flanagan is now located. The village of Flanagan was not laid out until several years later when the Illinois Central Railroad was built. They lived on the farm all of their lives. In the early days there was once an inclosure for cattle on the farm where he lived. Some of the stockmen who drove cattle from the southern part of Illinois, or from Missouri, to market in Chicago, would sometimes stop there for the night. Many years ago, Nicholis Stuckey found a gold piece on this farm, which no doubt was lost by one of these men who had stopped there. He later gave it to his son Henry, who now lives in Wauseon, Ohio.

This farm was bought from the United States government for 75 cents per acre. In 1855 a barn was built, a part of which is today, 86 years later, still standing. Ezra N. Zimmerman, one of his grandsons, now lives on the old Zimmerman homestead.

Once when Abraham Lincoln was in Peoria he had the privilege of shaking hands with him. He was well educated for his day and taught French school before coming to America. However, he had only eleven days of English school.

They were married only two days less than fifty years when he died on October 13, 1894, at the age of 76 years, 5 months and 25 days. His wife died on August 24, 1905, having attained the age of 81 years, 10 months and 23 days. Both are buried in Mt. Zion Cemetery several miles northeast of Flanagan. They were members of the Salem Mennonite Church in Waldo Township about six miles southeast of Flanagan. There is a long line of descendants. He was the grandfather of the writer.

Katherine was born in 1820, in Germany. She was married to John Reeser of Wesley City, who lives in or near Washington, Illinois. He was born October 15, 1811, and died February 9, 1902. They were the parents of seven children: Joseph, Fannie, Katherine, Christian, Elizabeth, Anna and John. She died in 1865.

Magdalena who married David Schmidt didn't come to America. We do not know if they had children and do not know when she was born or died.

Maria was born November 5, 1835, in Germany. She was married to Christian Schrock who was born April 24, 1826. They were the parents of twelve children, Magdalena, Emanuel, Mary, Christian, Elizabeth, Anna, Jacobina, Sarah, Barbara, Joseph, Katherine and Lucy. For awhile they resided in Tazewell County, near Tremont, and later moved near Flanagan, Illinois. She died December 20, 1920, at the age of 85 years, and her husband died October 29, 1917, at the age of 91 years.

Jacobina was born June 17, 1838, in Germany. She was married to Joseph Burcky, a minister, who was born May 29, 1836. She died June 1, 1900, almost 62 years of age. At first they lived near Pekin, Illinois, later moving near Tiskilwa, Illinois, Bureau County, where he had charge of the Willow Springs Mennonite Church, holding the office of bishop for fifty years or until the time of his death, Aug. 1, 1920, having attained the ripe old age of 84 years. They had a large family, eleven children were born to them as follows: Elizabeth, Josephine, Jonathan, Simon, Mary, Benjamin, John, Joseph, Edwin, Amos, and Albert.

Peter, the youngest child, was born in Ohio, on December 15, 1844. In his early youth he came to Tazewell County, Illinois. While still a young man he united with the Amish Mennonite church (sometimes called Old Amish). On February 26, 1865, he was married near Gridley, Illinois, to Magdalena Slagle, by Bishop Christian Ropp, of Danvers, Illinois. To this union 4 children, William, Edward, John and Lydia, were born. His wife died July 3, 1921. In 1878 he was ordained to the ministry at the Roanoke church. He was a fluent speaker and served as resident minister at the following churches: Roanoke, Illinois; Larned, Kansas; Garden City, Missouri; and Des Plaines, Arkansas. In 1886, he with his family moved to Larned, Kansas. Finally he severed his connection with the church he had served so long and was ordained as bishop of a Shelbyville, Illinois, congregation which had discontinued its connection with the mother church. He then affiliated himself with the church which was headed by the noted "sleeping preacher," J. J. Kauffman. He died May 5, 1931, at the age of 89 years. Both he and his wife are buried in the Harmony Cemetery, 5 miles west and 2 miles north of Roanoke. During his later years he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Lydia Helmuth, at Roanoke, Illinois.

Micheal Zimmerman had at least one brother Andrew and a sister Fanny. His brother Andrew was born in Germany in 1793, and died Jan. 13, 1847. This Andrew had a son Micheal, born Sept. 27, 1820, who was a minister of the Apostolic Church in the vicinity of Eureka and Carlock, Illinois. He died in March 1913. Many of the descendants of Andrew are living in the vicinity of Congerville, Carlock, Pekin, and Morton, some of them having attended the reunions a few times.

Micheal's sister, Fanny, married a Roth. It is thought that his first name was Chris. They were the parents of Nicholas, Daniel, Andrew, and Peter Roth. Many of their progeny live in the community of Groveland, Morton and Panola, Illinois.

Barbara, a daughter of Fanny, and a niece of Micheal, married a Peter Zehr. They moved to Canada, and it is believed their descendants are living there.

Fanny, the second daughter of Fanny, married Joseph Staker. Many of that family live in Tazewell County, especially in and around Morton. Others of the lineage are such by the name of Schnur, Mosiman and Birkey.

Annie, the third daughter of Fanny, married Chris Garber, and many of that family live in Tazewell County, Illinois.

In this family record mainly genealogy and descendants of Michael Zimmerman, Sr., are given.

EXPLANATION OF GENEALOGICAL RECORD

Since we do not know the name of Micheal Zimmerman's, Sr., parents, he is the first generation of our particular family bearing the name Zimmerman.

His twelve children are the second generation and their names follow the Roman numerals as indicated.

The third generation is designated by those whose names follow the first set of Arabic numerals such as 1,2,3.

The fourth generation are those whose names follow the capital letters of the alphabet.

Those belonging to the fifth generation are the names after the small letters of the alphabet.

The sixth generation of names follows again with the Arabic numerals with proper indentation.

The names of the seventh generation follow the small letters of the alphabet, doubled.
